

- (e) whether the data has been verified from a reliable and independent source;
  - (f) whether the data is maintained by a government body or pursuant to legislation; and
  - (g) whether the electronic data can be additionally authenticated; and
- (2) what reliable and independent electronic data the reporting entity will use for the purpose of verification;
- (3) the reporting entity's pre-defined tolerance levels for matches and errors; and