

people who are transgender or intersex, people affected by natural disasters, people with limited access to identity documents (for example because they were raised in institutional or foster care), people with limited participation in society, and young people or those over 18 who have not established a ‘social footprint’ in the community.

Reporting entities may also rely on Part 4.15 where a person possesses, but is unable to produce or provide, the necessary information or evidence of identity due to